To President Obama and Iowa Congressional Delegation:

Our nation is leading the way toward a new form of warfare – where pilots sitting on the ground thousands of miles away command drone strikes and where targets are (in military jargon) "neutralized," and where unintended victims are dismissed as "collateral damage." Close observers, both inside and outside the U.S. military, call this "video-game warfare." These killer drone operations lack necessary transparency and accountability.

We urge you to stop the development and use of drone warfare.
