campground in an amnitarian mission

Hereby I express, at the same time in the name of my mother, my heartiest thanks to the American Commission for the nice warm things and boots which I received from you through German women. God may reward it to the generous spenders what they have done for the poor German children, even if they are living far across the sea. I will also be a very good girl and pray to Jesus Christ for the good people.

This was written in childish thankfulness
