Honoree: 8th Day Center for Justice

The 8th Day Center for Justice founded in 1974 by six congregations of Roman Catholic women and men in Chicago were appropriately named after the Christian concept of an eighth day where creation will be complete only when "justice rules the land." Their inspirational commitment and work in Chicago touched nearly every peace and social justice issue as they served as a prophetic voice against injustice, educating others about the oppressive structures operating in their own backyards. Their presence in our work will be missed.
