

A black and white photograph of a woman in a hoodie and glasses holding a large sign that says "BLACK COMMUNITY MATTERS". She is standing in a city street with other people and buildings in the background. The sign is held high above her head. The background shows a city street with cars, pedestrians, and buildings, including a Rite Aid store. The sky is overcast.

BLACK COMMUNITY MATTERS

TWIN CITIES
FREEDOM SCHOOL

TWIN CITIES FREEDOM SCHOOL

REGISTER
TODAY

AUGUST 2-6, 2016
10 AM - 4 PM
TWIN CITIES FRIENDS
MEETING HOUSE
1725 GRAND AVENUE
ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA
FREE

*Breakfast and lunch provided.
Transportation available.*

If you're 16 to 23 years old, join us as we break down the systems that perpetuate racism—from education to the criminal justice system—so we can work to create meaningful change.

Apply at: tinyurl.com/zc7g473
Space is limited, so please apply ASAP.

Questions?
Contact Sharon Goens-Bradley at
651-789-3852 or sgoens@afsc.org

American Friends Service Committee